

The three little pigs

Written by Deniz Tuncel

Once upon a time there lived three little pigs. The biggest pig's name was Teddy, the middle pig's name was Tommy and the little pig's name was Tim. They were going to sleep but they said they sleep in different houses. They built their houses in the woods. They all built different houses with different materials. The biggest brother built it with leaves, the middle brother built it with wood and the little brother built it with bricks. They all loved together and they spent time by themselves. It took them 2 weeks to make their little houses. After 2 weeks they slept for 2 weeks. But before the biggest brother even slept a wink he heard someone knock on the door. It was the big bad wolf 🐺! Big pig thought to himself and said "I won't open the door for this person!" The big bad wolf noticed nobody open the door so he took a smell of one leaf and the whole house was ruined! Wasn't he so rude! The big brother quickly ran to middle pig's house. He said to his brother "Quickly close the door because the big bad wolf is coming, he ruined my house!" The brother replied back and said "He will ruin your house because it's made out of leaves!" The wolf came and said "If you don't open the door I will ruin your house!" They didn't open the door and just kicked it and the whole house was ruined! They quickly ran to the smallest brother and said at the same time "Quickly close the door because the big bad wolf is coming!!!!" The smallest brother said "I will lock the door but don't worry my house is strong because it is made out of brick, he is never too strong to break my house." The big bad wolf heard what they said and ran as fast as the wind. Then they noticed he was gone so they celebrated and lived happily ever.
