

Monkey D Luffy and the Death of Nami

by Tabatha

Monkey D Luffy is a man of venom. If you were to ever utter a bad word about his family, he would eat your brains for dessert! Masterly skilled in shape-shifting to lure his prey in ;Luffy will morph into a dead loved one and take you to his house to finish you off. Without hesitation, he will choke you and swallow you in one bite - whether in public or not under thn7e cover of darkness, he was not fussed. Cocooned within his goat-hid, he would spend the following minutes metamorphosing into a ;fat, jiggly bear.

His chocolate drizzled caramel tie, however, would remain with him, following his transformation. Following his killing spree, he would lick the remaining blood off of his checked tie and wait in the shadows for his next strike. Monkey D Luffy's most salient feature was without a doubt his ;razor-sharp ears, which protrude out from his head like bats. The right ear (that was no longer razor-sharp) had unfortunately got chewed away following combat with a particularly savage young victim; who had bitten him in an attempt to escape. Despite the struggle, the teenager had of course been unsuccessful in their attempt. If you were to look closely you can see the bite marks ;All that is left is a rigged curve and the stain of blood

Chapter2

What happens next

"Help please!" echoed Nami as she ran through Tokyo village. To the relentless beat of her racing heart, away from cold,hearted MDL (Monkey D Luffy) who was relentless in his intentions to kill. Running for her life, Nami passed by demonic shadows and desperate spirits dancing and watching with sniggers twirling across their faces. "After her!" screamed MDL with anger, in hot pursuit of Nami. In a bid to seek safety, Nami hid in a tree.

Not aware of what was in front of her, Nami tripped and spun down the hill ;bruises, scars and cuts covering her body. In the woods of the 'Lost Spirits', Nami shrieked in pain, "Ahh!"

With thorns sticking out of her clothes, she was still sprinting for her life when BANG she fell to her beautiful knees. Spirits hovered over to check to see if she was unconscious then dragged her across the floor like a dead corpse. They threw her like a very light tennis ball - without a doubt it was MDL. He snatched her and tossed her body over his shoulder and began walking away. Awakening with fatigued eyes, Nami was sitting in a cold, metal chair with a trail of iron wrapped around herself and the chair. "Well, well, well look what the cat dragged in!" howled MDL.

Chapter 3

The Kidnap

"Ahh!" as Nami tripped she still continued to run for her life then Monkey D Luffy appeared in front of her and knocked her out with the flat side of his gun she woke up laying down on the bronze, rusty floor "Look your finally awake," coldly spoke MDL pointing his gun at Nami "Please don't hurt me!" whispered Nami as scared tears fell down her frightened face BOOM a pullet skimmed her face landing in the wall behind her making a small hole and a long cut across her face blood gushed out of her face landing on the wall next to her and on the floor next to her "Ahh!" she screamed in pain as the blood flowed out of her face she knew Monkey D Luffy was never like this and had a good heart knew Monkey D Luffy was never like this and had a good heart after Shakes died MDL become cold hearted and blamed Nami Zoro and Sanji but we didnt do anything but try to save him "Luffy remember Shakes he knew you was never like this" Nami cried in pain

Chapter 4

The Sorry

"Don't, don't, talk about shakes - he's m-mine not yours leave m-me alone I don't want to hear your voice shout up," moaned Monkey D Luffy.

"Just listen to me, we both know none of us did it," replied Nami.

"Of course we didn't." Zoro spoke as he walked in...
